

Hickory High names 2 top graduates

A girl and a boy have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the Hickory Twp. High School graduating class.

Announcement was made at the annual commencement program Tuesday night at the high school athletic field.

Valedictorian is Evelyn Michele Perkovic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perkovic, 2565 Valley View Rd., Hickory.

Salutatorian is Craig R. Godfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Godfrey, 3385 McConnell Rd., Hickory.

Miss Perkovic plans to major in music at West Virginia University at Morgantown. Godfrey will major in pharmacy at Ohio Northern University at Ada. Both are members of the National Honor Society.

Speakers at the commencement were seniors Devon Hughes, Ronald Marenchin, John Rademacher and Penny Rice. The theme was "In All Things, Be Yourself."

Hughes spoke on "The Need for Individuality in a Society That Stresses Conformity." Marenchin spoke on "Judgement and Decisions." Rademacher's topic was "We Are Individuals, Yet We Are All Alike." Miss Rice talked on "Friendship and Brotherhood."

Kenneth R. Delahunty, superintendent of schools, presented the class and Dr. Lynn F. Brumm, school board president, gave out the diplomas to the 287 graduates.

Shapp, aide

HARRISBURG (UPI) — Gov. Milton J. Shapp, members of his administration, and other top governmental and legislative figures were "toasted and roasted" in song and skit in the annual Gridiron Show of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association Tuesday night.

Shapp underwent the usual good-humored needling in high spirits as almost 500 state officials and political figures watched this year's proceedings, entitled "Kosher Nostra" and sponsored by the newsmen who cover the state capitol.

Among the many news events lampooned in song and dance by a cast of 10 semi-professional actors were: Shapp's victories over Auditor General Robert P. Casey in the last two Democratic gubernatorial pri-
