Hornet depth powers win in 1st annual Sharon Invitational

By LYNN SATERNOW

Meadville's Tom Fulton won the race, but Hickory's balance and depth carried the day as Mike Bavola's Hornets raced to victory in the first annual Sharon High School Cross Country Invitational Saturday at Buhl Park.

Hickory thinclads took four of the first ten places and six of the top 20 to score an impressive victory in the first cross - country meet of the season over seven other area units.

The Hornets, led by Dave Lawton and Alex Kasich, who placed second and third respectively behind Meadville whiz Fulton, rolled up a 42 point total to undercut the Bulldogs with 46 markers.

Other totals

Other totals were: Mercer 57, Greenville 108, Hubbard 157, Reynolds 160, Sharon 174, and Farrell 180.

Fulton, Lawton and Kasich provided the fans with a lot of excitement, running neck to neck most of the way. But Fulton turned on the speed at the last to pull away and win in a time of 11:59.5.

Lawton came across the wire in 12:07.5 and Kasich in 12:09, far ahead of the rest of the pack. Denny Fell of Greenville finished fourth in a time of 12:40.

Top 10

Rounding out the top 10 were: Rich Fetzer, Meadville, 12:43; Marty Mattocks, Mercer, 12:47; Glen Orlosky, Mercer, 12:48; Tom Herrmann, Hickory, 12:53; Barry King, Mercer, 12:55; and Ken Cimperman, Hickory, 12:55.

Hickory and Meadville were the two favorites coming into the meet, but one of the surprises of the event was the closely knit Mercer team, that finished close behind the two distance powerhouses.

From the showing in the season lid - lifter, it looks as though the county - seaters will be a rugged squad as the year rolls on.

Chris Houck, Sharon High coach and meet director of the big event, said that the teams and runners this year are fantastic with the finest times ever recorded on the Buhl Farm course.

The former mark was 12:50 set by Lawton last year, but that time wasn't even close to Fulton's 11:59.5 Saturday and the first seven runners broke the old standard.

"Cross country has been growing steadily in recent years," said Coach Houck, "and the results here show the improvement that has taken place."

Houck said the invitational meet was a huge success and will be an annual affair to kickoff the year and give the runners something to point to each season.

Lucas-Stratter win 1st place in bestball tourney

WEIRTON, W. Va.—The Sharon duo of Johnny Lucas and Bill Stratter won the annual two-man amateur-amateur bestball tournament at Woodside, near here, Sunday, in a sudden death playoff.

Each team posted a five-under 66 over the 6165 yard par 35-36—71 course.

Lucas, on the first sudden death hole, fired a birdie four to win the competition.

Seventy-six teams took part in the competition, with the team of Andy Voytik and Milt Lavine finishing among the leaders with a one-under 70. They tied with four other teams.

Following are the scores of the leaders:

John Lucas - Bill Stratter	66

Ed Koski - H. Kessler	69
Ron Hilinski - T. Scott	69

The unbeaten Hickory High cross-country team continued its winning ways Thursday, rolling over Farrell runners, 15-40 on the winner's track.

Starting lineup

Coach Art Benardi will probably open with Mark McGarrah, 6-2, 195, and Bob Shipkowski, 6-2, 180, at ends; Dan Parr, 215, and Denny Tilko, 265.

The guards will probably be Ralph Perri, 6-3 and 210 is the offensive guard and also a tight end. Jack Dawson, 190, and 6-0, is at the other post.

The center will probably be George Isocitch, 6-1.

Strong backs

In the backfield, Bernardi has veteran John Grystar, 165, at quarterback, Barry Garber and Terry Urnosky, both listed at 165, at halfbacks, and Dave Kay, and Tony Rapone at fullbacks.

The Tornado squad has depth and size. They also have the experience and Farrell scouts, who watched them in their first two games, labeled the team "one of the great Butler aggregations."

Coach Bill Gargano was disapplinted in the outcome of the Aliquippa game, feeling "we should have scored a third touchdown and won the game." He hinted at some changes in the Farrell lineup for the clash with Butler but said he hadn't definitely made up his mind.

"We'll be trying," he said, "to stop what our scouts consider one of the strongest attacks they have ever seen, and we'll be attempting to run against what they feel is the toughest defense. It makes a hard game for us but we'll be there."

Farrell starters

Gargano will probably open with his same lineup, but there may be changes soon, if things don't shape up.

The Farrell offensive line will probably have Maurice Crosby, 5-9, 160, and Preston Gregory,

Top-ranked Bucks to entertain Duke

By STEVE SMILANICH
UPI Sports Writer

Tom Harp, an Ohioan who left home for greener pastures, can't be blamed for being wary of the homecoming he'll receive Saturday against the nation's No. 1 college football team.

Harp, coach of Duke University the past four years, returns to his native Ohio Saturday to send his Blue Devils against the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Duke coach, who grew up in Barnesville, Ohio, and played college ball at Muskingum College, says his parents will be attending the game at Ohio Stadium and so will a lot of his friends.

"When about everyone you know is going to be in the stands, you just hope you don't get embarrassed," said Harp, recalling that the last time he coached a team against a No. 1 outfit was in 1966, his first year at Duke.

In that game Notre Dame trounced the Blue Devils 64-0 and Harp's dad was in the stands as his son's team got clobbered.

"We just hope we can make it interesting. We recognize what we have to contend with in Ohio State," said Harp.

Ohio State, a 56-13 conqueror of Texas A&M last Saturday, is a heavy favorite to spoil Harp's homecoming and hand the Blue Devils their second loss in four games.

Second-ranked Texas can expect much tougher opposition than the Buckeyes will get this weekend. The Longshorns, play-Michigan hosts Texas A&M and No. 10 Air Force Academy plays at home against Colorado State University.

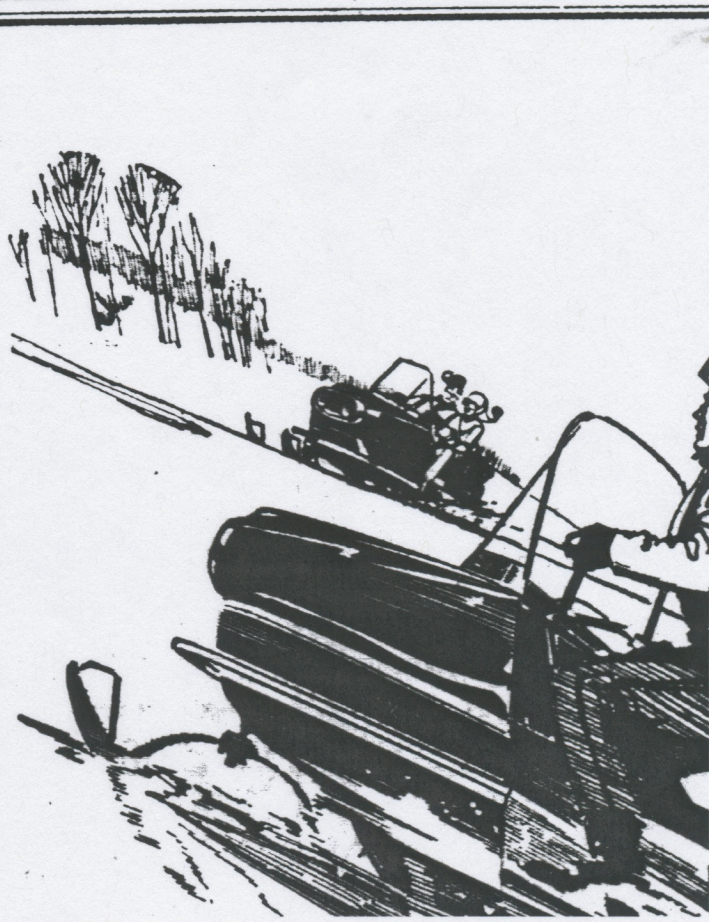

Penn State and West Virginia, the East's stop teams and tied for 17th spot in the UPI ratings, take on midwestern rivals. Penn State tangles with Wisconsin and the unbeaten Mountaineers, bidding for their fourth straight success, meet Indiana.

Hickory places 5th in Gannon Invitational

Mike Bavola's Hickory High cross-country team made an excellent showing in the Gannon Invitational cross-country meet held last weekend in Erie.

The Hornets, led by "road-runner" Dave Lawton who finished in second place, placed fifth in the team competition.

North Allegheny finished first with a total of 94 points followed by Pittsburgh South Hills Catholic with 157, Neshannock, with 212; Meadville with 219, and Hickory with 238.

Meadville's speedster Tom Fulton took first place in the individual competition followed in close pursuit by Hickory's Lawton. Vince Ponce of Erie Tech was third while Hickory's Al Kasich was fourth and Art Becker of North Alleghney, 5th.

Mercer's Marty Mattocks made a fine individual effort also as he finished in seventh spot. Mercer closed with a total of 301 points to finish within the top 10 teams.

The competition was held during intermittent showers on a cold and windy day. Thirty-two schools from Pennsylvania and Ohio competed for honors with 224 individual runners competing for laurels.

's hard on my legs," ison said. "But more than you play the game ly different on this kind of face. You can't even think ame."

ny observers, including nati slugger and leader Rose, regard the opening matchup of pitchers er and Nolan as possibly a key to the entire series.

The theory that the first game is more important runs contrary to what happened in the World Series last year. The Orioles won the first game of that one and then lost the next four games and the series to the New York Mets.

Ex-Cincy info

Robinson is the player on the Orioles most familiar with Cincinnati—he was traded away by the Reds five years ago when a top Cincinnati club official described him as, "an old 30."

Robinson, now 35, said that the remark made him extremely bitter at the time, "because it just wasn't true." He proved it by winning the Triple Crown in the American League in 1966.

Both clubs have been idle since clinching their respective playoffs last Monday and it remained to be seen how the long layoff affected them.

The Orioles come into the series riding a 14-game winning streak including the last 11 games of the regular season as they ran away with the American League East and a three-game sweep over the Minnesota Twins in the American League playoffs.

Some workouts

Weaver has expressed worry that the delay may dull some of his pitchers, especially Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally, who will have more than a week between starts.

The Orioles, after working out at home during the week, came to Cincinnati yesterday and took a long workout on the Riverfront carpet. The Reds, who staged an intra-squad game on Thursday in an effort to stay sharp, also worked out briefly on Friday.

After opening today, the series remains here for the second game on Sunday. There will be a day off for travel on Monday and then the third, fourth and fifth (if necessary) games will be played in Baltimore, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. If the series has not been decided by then after another day off for travel on Friday, the sixth and seventh games will be played here Saturday and Sunday.

back Jim DeMarco clicked in the third quarter to give the Mercer High Mustangs a 14-14 tie with visiting Neshannock Friday evening in a crucial Tri-County League tilt for the Mustangs. The contest marked the Mustang's 1970 Homecoming tilt.

Come-from-behind

Mercer, which entered the contest riding a sparkling three-game win streak, outplayed the Lancers throughout and amassed a total yardage figure of 275 as compared to Neshannock's 87. Despite the lop-sided yardage figure the Mustangs were extended to the hilt and were forced to come-from-behind to salvage the tie.

Coach Eugene Blakely's Mustangs saw the visiting Lancers get on the board in the first quarter when quarterback Steve George, who tallied both of the visitor's scores, cracked over from three yards out. The run-

Neshannock broke to a 6-0 lead.

Yeager scores

The Mustangs, who have been picking up momentum each week, came right back with a 60-yard touchdown drive climaxed by an 11-yard td scamper by Gary Yeager. Mercer's kick on the conversion attempt was nil as the score remained knotted at 6-6.

In the second quarter the Lancers took advantage of a Mustang fumble, cashing in a few plays later when George raced over from three yards out. Neshannock took possession on the Mercer 21 after recovering the fumble. A pass from George to Reeher clicked on the two-point conversion for a 14-6 Neshannock lead.

It literally hurts the Detroit Lions to play the Chicago Bears.

The two teams go at each other so hard that they inevitably come out of the battle pretty well beat up physically.

It's no wonder then that Coach Joe Schmidt of the Lions is very concerned about this Sunday's rematch with the Bears in Chicago. The Lions are currently tied with Minnesota for first place in the National Football Conference's Central Division, and the Lions and Vikings meet each other a week from Sunday. Schmidt would like to have his crew completely healthy for that one.

The threat of injuries is foremost in Schmidt's mind, but so is the possibility that his players might be looking ahead to the game with the Vikings.

"If we do, we're dead," said Schmidt. "I know it. All of our coaches know it. And our players know it, too. You can never play the Bears casually. It always has been that way. It still is."

The Bears have been greatly crippled offensively by the loss of running back Gale Sayers for the season, but they're still a rugged defensive outfit, especially against the run.

In other Sunday action, Denver is at San Francisco, Cleveland at Miami, St. Louis at the New York Giants, Dallas at Kansas City, Boston at Baltimore, Pittsburgh at Oakland, Cincinnati at Washington, Houston at San Diego, New Orleans at Atlanta, Philadelphia vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee and Buffalo at the New York Jets. The Vikings host the Los Angeles Rams in a Monday night game.

Lawton, Kasich pace Hickory to 11th straight win

Mike Bavola's "record-wrecking" Hickory High harriers established another new mark Thursday afternoon at Cortland, Ohio, where they romped to a one-sided triangular meet victory over Lakeview, Ohio and Youngstown Ursuline.

Dave Lawton and Al Kasich led the field for Hickory once again, racing over the 2-mile course with an excellent time of 10:14. This time bettered the old course record of 10:32 by 18 seconds.

Hickory showed 22 points as compared to Lakeview's 49 and third-piace Ursuline with 54.

Another Hickory standout Ken Cimperman finished in third spot a time of 10:44 and was followed by LoSasso (U) 10:48; Barney (L) 10:51; Bair (H) 11:00; Zidin (U) 11:07; Guesman (L) 11:09; Frederica (L) 11:13; T. In winning the Hornets remain undefeated on the season with a perfect 11-0 record. Hickory will compete in the County Meet at Commodore Perry High School on Saturday while returning to the home course on Tuesday for a very important match with Neshannock and Greenville.

Grove City blasts Geneva eleven, 27-8

GROVE CITY—Chris Smith's 81-yard punt return late in the second quarter gave Grove City the lead at halftime over Geneva, and Bob Werner added two third quarter touchdowns as the Wolverines defeated the winless Golden Tornadoes, 27-8, last Saturday.

Following Smith's tip-toeing through the tacklers, Brian Neefe converted for a 7-0 lead with 2:08 left in the first half. Previously, Geneva had halted the Grover offensive attack with two pass interceptions by Bill Rayz and the blocking of two field goal attempts.

The tempo picked up after the intermission on the running of Grove City's freshman fullback, Chuck Gaetano. For the first time this year, Grove City scored in the third quarter with Bob Werner crossing the goalline on runs of one and five yards. Gaetano, from Camp Hill, gained 107 yards in 14 carries for an average of 7.6 yards per carry.

Sophomore Vern Welsh barrelled over from the three yard stripe and Tom Haddox passed for the two-point conversion to Keith Buterbaugh for Geneva's lone points in the third stanza.

The passing-receiving combination of quarterback Gary Teter and end, Jack Mackert, got hot again this week with Mackert hauling in four aerials good for 92 yards and one touchdown. The TD pass covered 67 yards early in the fourth quarter.

Coach Behringer's Grovers hiked their record to 2-3-1. Geneva has yet to win in six outings.

Pitts' downfall

Pitt's downfall in the mid-60s can be attributed to many factors—lack of recruiting, lack of money, and a tough new set of standards that affected all Eastern powers for a while.

In the early 1960s, Pitt, Penn State, West Virginia and Syracuse entered into agreements limiting the number of scholarships at the four schools to 100, an average of 25 a year, and banning red shirting, the practice of holding a player out of competition for a year to gain an extra year's eligibility —and maturity.

The NCAA, which permits redshirting, has no limit on scholarships, but 25 a year is considerably below the limits of most major conferences.

The rules took effect after the 1963 season, when Pitt was 9-1, Syracuse 8-2 and Penn State 7-3. It was not by mere coincidence that the next year, the teams all won fewer games.

Pitt's problems were compounded by financial difficulties.

$19 million debt

The university went $19 million into debt under its former chancellor, the late Dr. Edward Litchfield, and one of the places the budget was trimmed was athletics.

With less money, recruiting slowed. In 1965, there were only 16 freshman football players brought into school, and the freshman schedule was canceled.

The varsity record dropped to 3-5-2 in 1964 and that was followed by 3-7, 1-9, 1-9, 1-9 and last year's 4-6. The six-year record from 1964 to 1969 was 13-45-2, and 22 of the losses were by four touchdowns or more.

Signed names

When it came time to hire a new coach in 1969, Athletic Director Cas Myslinski went first for names. He signed Arizona State's Frank Kush to a lush contract but five days later Kush pulled out, leaving Pitt in the lurch. Myslinski also made fat offers to Oregon State's Dee Andros and Wyoming's Lloyd Eaton, then finally hired DePasqua a few hours after Andros became the third to turn him down.

DePasqua has done his job well enough to have the Panthers ranked No. 18 this week, which puts them almost as close to the top as they once were close to the bottom.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Joe Paterno was working Penn State's defense hard this week in preparation for what scouting reports described as "the most explosive offensive team we have seen all season."

The Lions meet West Virginia Saturday before a sellout crowd at Beaver Stadium. Penn State, now 3-3, is favored by 6½ points over the Mountaineers, who are 5-2 and winless against the Lions in 15 years.

Gerald Sandusky, the Lions' linebacker coach, scouted the Mountaineers. He noted each of their three ball carriers, Bob Greshman, Pete Wood and Ed Williams, has gained more yardage than any Penn State back this season.

Hickory harriers cap outdoor card with fine effort

The Hickory High cross-country team capped a very successful post season schedule under distance coach Paul Sanders with their second place finish in the Judge Brosky International 10,000 meter run in Pittsburgh Saturday.

The Hornet harriers were defeated by the California State Teachers College, 66-82, for the championship. This was a rematch of an earlier battle which Hickory won by two points in at Senior AAU meet.

The runners added another fine trophy for their efforts in this six-mile run, defeating some fine teams for the honors.

Schurko wins

The race was won by Bob Schurko, a Pitt varsity runner. Alex Kasich and Dave Lawton turned in outstanding performances for Hickory with their respective sixth and eighth place finishes.

The pair was the first of the high school runners to finish and they defeated many fine college runners including representatives from Pitt and Villanova.

Other medalists for Hickory include Edinboro ace Bill Moder, who placed 19th, Hickory freshman Tom Herrman 23rd, and junior Ken Timperman, 36.

The Hornets now begin training for the indoor opener on Jan. 16 at Pittsburgh.
